SINGLE TAX

The rural districts are not taking the interest they should to insure the defeat of the amendment providing for single tax. There seems to be more talk against it and more effort to defeat it in the little towns than in the country. True we have lots to protect, but they are not a farm and the difference in size ought to represent the difference in the interest in the subject.

Why not organize school districts and have the disadvantages of single tax fully explained and understood.

The world is still full of "kickers" and "knockers." But after all they are the men and women who make the world go. Satisfaction with present conditions have always meant stagnation. Columbus "knocked" on the old idea that the world was flat and square and made a host of enemies. Galilei protested that the earth moved. He was treated to inquisitorial remedies to secure his denial of his belief. Judge Lindsey, of Denver, was a "knocker" on the way children are handled today in criminal matters. Examples could be multiplied indefinitely. Every protestant against accepted ideas however wrong the ideas, is a kicker and a protester yet, all the world's progress has been forced by "knockers."

The same meat we pay 23 to 30 cents a pound for in this country, sells for from 12 1/2 to 15c per pound in England. Why? Where do they get it?

Salisbury Scribbles

One of the largest and most impressive funerals ever witnessed in Salisbury was that of Robert S. Foglesong, at the First Christian church, on Sunday afternoon, conducted by Elder H. M. Hale, assisted by M. F. Crowe. The church was filled to overflowing and many were on the sidewalks and at the window so anxious were all to see and hear. The floral tributes were all that could be desired, and the decorations of the auditorium were the work of an artist. The words of both were eulogistic of the life and character of the deceased, and the entire audience was melted to tears when they thought how this noble young life was cut off. Robert S. Foglesong was born Oct. 20, 1891 and united with the Christian church when only a boy. Two years ago after graduation in the Salisbury High School, he entered Westminster college at Fulton, Mo. where he rapidly rose to distinction and had many honors showered upon him. His young life has gone out but his influence on the town and community will long be remembered. Goodbye Robert—a longfare well, Henceforth in a heavenly mansion to dwell.

Prepared for the first by Jesus the Lord,
For those who love him and trust in his word.

When the blizzard struck us Wednesday morning it set the whole town to shivering and the price of watermelons went down to zero.

J. H. Fletcher has sold his 20 acre farm near town to a Mr. Whaley and may leave us in the next year perhaps about Feb. We regret this as his is one of our best families.

Coal sells here at 13 cents and wood at $3.50 per cord, hard coal $9.80 a ton. We must elect Wilson or we may both freeze and starve.

Our Sunday afternoon mail was knocked out by an engine leaving the track near the home of J. P. McAdam one mile east of town. A postal card was our loss.

Miss Minnie Clarkson, Claude Duff and Miss Hilda Divers of Fulton attended the funeral of Robert S. Foglesong Sunday.

The Chris Nivert damage case against the Wabash was compromised for $1000.

J. W. Luck Sundayed at Prairie Hill and listened to Eld. Mitchell expound the gospel.

Roy Walker of St. Louis attended the Foglesong funeral and will spend a week with us.

J. B. Shannon, E. B. Kellogg and some friends motored over Tuesday and took in the sights. Salisbury is ever ready to welcome such visitors.

We regret to report J. D. Dunn suffering from an abscess formed on the wound made by an operation some time ago. The incision has not healed as readily as he hoped.

Corn raisers are talking 35c and 40c a bushel for their new crop when the market opens.

We hear talk of a hickory nut crop but so far have not seen any on the market.

R. A. Roberts who has been in poor health for some time is other worse than usual the last few days.
